

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:
Sunday, November 30, 1873.

THE NEW HARDWARE STORE OF E. D. Judd & Co. has some of its many attractions set forth in a new advertisement in the APPEAL of this morning. The proprietors take for their motto "Competition," and desire to illustrate that they "Still Live," and prosper by selling goods at a small profit. They keep crockery, paints, doors, windows, coal, oil and everything pertaining to a first-class hardware establishment. Their Tin Shop is complete, extensive, and in the charge of the best of workmen. Mr. Judd is fortunate in securing the services in the salesroom of that competent, experienced and popular business man—happily known—our friend Chauncey N. Noteware. The new hardware store is a live institution and well prepared for business. Read their advertisement.

THE MAN WHO GAVES made his appearance on the streets, in Carson, several days ago. He is an unfortunate Chinaman whose jaw bone is dislocated and forever set awry. We do not know how it happened, nor does the poor devil himself. His mouth is wide open and must remain so perpetually, unless the hitch may be undone by surgery. His lips, at least three-quarters of an inch apart, present a gaping hole horrible to look into or think of. Thank heavens it is not fly time! The poor wretch would be choked stiff on passing the first restaurant! He seemed to think well of advice given him, and went away to hunt up an American doctor. We have not heard of the result. The miserable creature feels as bad as he looks probably, and no better than those who enjoy keeping their mouths wide open, make their neighbors feel.

THE rain of night before last was a blessing. We hope there may be some more of it in store for us. It cools the air. It lays the dust. It's a great change. It washes away some obnoxious things. It, however, reveals some objects that we would rather not see—let it not be presumed that we refer to the muddy crossings where the ladies traverse the streets and unconsciously display enchanting tassels on their boots and so on. We speak of offal, which a friendly dust has coated over from sight. On the Plaza, yesterday, there was an ancient cock plucked long ago for the neighboring restaurant on account of the elevated tone of its exhalations. The like fall under the involuntary observer's eye at every turn. Somebody ought to be prosecuted for nuisance; the rain says so.

THE hall above Mason & Chamberlin's is receiving its finishing touch. Burns & Merzbach are going to have their dancing school there. The young men in Carson who can not waltz and polka and the like, are too numerous to mention. The ladies, nearly all, young and old, are du fait in the fancy dances. Young gentlemen, now is the time to add an accomplishment to your many graces. And they contemplate the Saturday evening soirees to extend through the entire dancing season, which you can not half enjoy within the sphere of lancers and quadrills. Throw off your awkwardness, and waltz in gentlemen; it's a lucky turn.

THEATRICAL.—Teller's Vaudeville Combination performed at the theater last night to a very fair audience. In rendering "Everybody's Enemy" they made considerable fun and elicited applause. The after piece was also rendered with pleasing spirit. The troupe will appear again and for the last time in Carson, in the beautiful pastoral drama of "Dora" or "A Father's Curse," to-morrow evening.

THE Skating Rink opened handsomely last night under the new and energetic management of Harry Zimmerman. Quite a crowd were on hand notwithstanding the performance at the Theater. The young gentlemen and ladies—not as many of the latter as might be, considering the advantage of exercising on skates—enjoyed themselves greatly. When the hall is opened for the next time we expect to see a still larger attendance.

THE NEW SCHOOL LAW requires the attendance at school of all children between the ages of eight and fourteen years, at least sixteen weeks during each school year—eight of which must be consecutive. Parents and guardians will do well to bear this in mind, as for a noncompliance with the law in this respect a fine of not less than fifty dollars will be imposed. See official School Notice published elsewhere in the APPEAL of this morning.

GRAND BALL AT EMPIRE.—John Richey will give another of those popular entertainments in the shape of a grand ball, for which he and his hall have become celebrated, on Friday evening December 5th. The hall has been newly repainted, and is one of the very finest of its size in the State. Excellent music and the best of accommodation will be provided on the occasion. See advt.

THE ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY will meet at their hall for debate on Tuesday evening next.

THE STOCK MARKET has been decidedly lively during the week, although it shows a declining tendency at the close. The greatest movements have been in Overman, Best and Belcher, Ophir, Consolidated Virginia, Gould and Curry and Belcher, although nearly all descriptions kept pace with the movement. Knickerbocker shows a slight advance to-day, owing to improved prospects in the mine. The firmness and advancing tendency of the Belcher is based upon the increasing merit and value of the mine, as developed in the ore body being found to the extent further south and still continuing in the face of the main drift at the 1,300-foot level, nearly 500 feet from the Crown Point line. The advance in Overman is due more to speculation upon the good prospects and probabilities of ore developments at no distant day, and the importance of the locality where the prospecting work is being conducted. The advance in Best & Belcher is said to be owing to rivalry for the control of the stock, as well as the good proximity of that mine to the Consolidated Virginia ore body. Money matters are easy, stock transactions lively and extensive, and numerous time sales are reported.—Gold Hill News of last evening.
